What's your vision for the future?

The San Joaquin Valley Blueprint is a chance to plan for the future of transportation and land use in the Fresno Area and the Valley.

Share Your Views

Fresno County will grow from 950,000 people today, to 1.6 million in 2050. What are your most important "quality of life" concerns?

- Should clean air and water be our focus?
- What about affordable housing or preserving farmland?
- How do we meet the transportation needs of all community members?

Your Vote Counts

At the Valley Blueprint 2050 event we'll be using "clicker technology" to count your votes on what issues you think are most important. A facilitator will ask questions, while attendees use hand held clickers to signal their answers. The clickers will provide immediate feedback.

Today's Choices Will Affect Future Generations

Please join us for this opportunity to help shape Fresno County's future. Choices today will have a tremendous impact on our children's and grandchildren's future. Be part of the Valley Blueprint 2050 vision, and share this unique invitation with your friends, family and co-workers!
