What is the Fresno Council of Governments?

The Fresno COG is a voluntary association of local governments, one of 25 in California and 522 nationwide. In 1967 elected officials of Fresno County and its incorporated cities informally created the Council to provide "a cooperative body" for the discussion and resolution of issues which go beyond their individual boundaries. Subsequent federal and state laws encouraged such efforts, and the agency was formalized in 1969.

Fresno COG fosters intergovernmental communication and coordination, undertakes comprehensive regional planning with an emphasis on transportation, provides for citizen involvement in the planning process and supplies technical services to its member governments.

In all these areas the Fresno COG serves as a consensus builder to develop an acceptable approach on how to handle problems that do not respect political boundaries.

How is the Council funded?

The Fresno COG is partially supported by contributed dues from its 16 members, however, the major revenue sources include federal and state grants. The Agency has no taxing or legislative authority.

Who are the members, their representatives, and how do they vote?

Fresno COG's member agencies are represented on the Policy Board by the Mayors of each incorporated city, and the Chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, or designated representatives.

The Policy Board is a governing body that establishes policy and guides work activities. They are assisted in making decisions by the Policy Advisory Committee (PAC), composed of the Chief Administrative Officer of each member agency, or their designated representatives. With the exception of urgency matters, all items must first be considered by the PAC before submission to the Policy Board.

The Board and PAC are assisted in the decision-making process by staff from their agencies, citizen and interest groups, and various technical advisory committees who comprise the Transportation Technical Committee or TTC as it is commonly called.

The Fresno COG has a 'double-weighted' voting system. Each member has a percentage vote based upon population. To approve any action the vote must pass two tests:

- 1) Agencies representing over 40% of the population must be in favor of an action, and
- 2) A majority of all the members must support the action; that is, nine of the sixteen members.

Fresno Council of Governments' Structure

The Policy Board has established advisory committees to aid in the fulfillment of its responsibilities. The chart on page 3 shows the adopted organizational structure. Members of the Policy Board and the Budget Committee are elected officials. The Transportation Policy Committee is the Policy Board with a Caltrans representative added. Administrative staffs of the cities and county are represented on the Policy Advisory Committee. The remaining committees are composed of technical staff and citizens of the area.

Major Functions

Transportation Planning: These tasks are conducted in compliance with both federal and state requirements, generated by COG's designation as the Regional Transportation Planning Agency and Metropolitan Planning Organization for Fresno County.

The COG prepares a required Regional Transportation Plan (RTP), which looks 25 years into the future and sets forth policies for development of highways, transit systems, air transportation, rail transportation, and bicycle and pedestrian facilities. As support to the RTP, a variety of planning studies and technical reports are prepared.

in 1986 Fresno County voters approved Measure "C", a 1/2 cent sales tax for transportation purposes. The COG is required by statute to prepare a Measure "C' Expenditure Plan and, of late, the 2006 Measure "C" Extension Expenditure Plan. The plan is prepared in close consultation and coordination with the cities, the County, Caltrans and the Fresno County Transportation Authority (administrators of the 1/2 cent tax) and various other community stakeholder groups.

Air Quality Planning: Fresno County does not currently meet the federally required standards for clean air. Therefore, strategies for transportation management are important. We are working with the San Joaquin Valley Air Pollution Control District to respond to the recognized need for cleaner air through air quality related transportation planning. Our planning activities are focused on reducing pollution generated through current and future transportation practices.

Computerized Transportation Simulation Models: These models aid in providing base information relevant to General Plans, Circulation Elements, and Air Quality analysis. Travel demand (transit and vehicles on streets) and congestion on existing and planned streets and freeways is predicted through this tool.

COG'S Traffic Monitoring Program: This program provides current and consistent data on county-wide traffic. Selected sites are monitored through traffic counts, and the traffic volume results are used by member agencies in their operations and by the COG to support the transportation model.

Fund Administration: On July 6, 2012, President Obama signed into law the new federal Surface Transportation Act, Moving Ahead for Progress in the 21st Century Act (MAP-21) (P.L. 112-141). One of the most significant reforms in MAP-21 is the establishment of national goals and performance measures. The intent of MAP-21 is to create a streamlined, performance-based, and multimodal program to address the many challenges facing the U.S. transportation system. These challenges include improving safety, maintaining, operating, and rehabilitating current infrastructure conditions, reducing traffic congestion, improving efficiency of the system and freight movement, protecting the environment, and reducing delays in project delivery. MAP-21 builds on and refines many of the highway, transit, bike, and pedestrian programs and policies established in 1991 under ISTEA. The legislation directs USDOT to work with states and Metropolitan Planning Organizations (MPOs) to develop performance measures related to pavement condition, safety, congestion, emissions, and freight. States are then directed to set performance targets for each of these measures. MAP-21 makes significant changes to the federal transportation program and funds surface programs. MAP-21 does not address the issue of the declining balance in the Federal Highway Trust Fund; instead it funds the two year program with ten years of "savings" and "consolidations" of other federal programs. MAP-21 has expired and is now operating under Continuing Resolutions. There are six core formula programs; National Highway Performance Program (NHPP), Surface Transportation Program (STP), Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Improvement Program (CMAQ), Highway Safety Improvement Program (HSIP), Railway-Highway Crossings (set-aside from HSIP), Metropolitan Planning along with two formula programs; Construction of Ferry Boats and Ferry Terminal Facilities and the Transportation Alternatives Program (TAP). Though the programs have changed, the states have flexibility over the distribution of funding programs.

MAP-21 expired in October of 2014 and some of the Notices of Proposed Rulemakings are still being released. While it still remains unseen as to whether or not MAP-21 will have fulfilled its intent for the two years of its enactment along with the current continuing resolutions, it was a step in a positive direction with its substantial ambitions of reform and streamlining efforts that benefited local agencies. An example of streamlining efforts included the increase in categorical exclusions (CE) - which allows agencies to not perform environmental assessments on certain categories of projects when those areas do not affect people or the environment - without the need for Federal Highway Administration approval each time. The full implementation, programming specifics and performance metrics are still being developed at the federal and state levels and providing regions and stakeholders the opportunity to be involved in the rulemaking process. Fresno COG actively engages in all MAP-21 implementation discussions and collaborates with interested parties, Caltrans, the California Transportation Commission (CTC), local agencies and FHWA to ensure that MPO input is provided for the remainder of this act and throughout the development of the future act.

Transportation Development Act fund administration concerns two types of funds. The Local Transportation Fund (LTF), derived from a portion of state sales tax that comes back to local government for funding of bicycle and pedestrian facilities, public transportation, or streets and roads, and the State Transit Assistance Fund (STA) that is derived from a portion of the motor vehicle fuel sales tax that supports public transportation services. Both funds are apportioned to member agencies on a population basis, though some of the STA funds are apportioned directly to transit operators based on their farebox revenues.

Rideshare Program: Fresno COG's Ridesharing agency hosts a website at www.valleyrides.com in partnership with California State University, Fresno. The site provides free computer matching for those interested in carpooling or vanpooling in/from Fresno County. The program assists employers in setting up commute alternative programs for their employees, and they support and promote transportation options such as transit, bicycling and telecommuting.

Areawide Clearinghouse Review of Grant Applications: Fresno COG serves as a clearinghouse for federal grant applications that are reviewed to determine if proposals would duplicate activities of other agencies and assure there is no conflict with local adopted plans and policies. The COG does not have the authority to approve or disapprove grants, but does forward its recommendations through the State Clearinghouse and on to the federal funding agency.

Member Agency Assistance: Fresno COG provides specialized technical assistance to member agencies, particularly those with limited staff and financial resources. These services have included fiscal management and computer applications support, traffic engineering studies, and special planning studies.

Housing Planning: Fresno COG is involved in housing planning, aiding members with required State Housing Element compliance.

Freeway Service Patrol: Fresno COG, Caltrans and the California Highway Patrol implement a Freeway Service Patrol along Freeways 41, 99, 168 and 180 through Fresno. A private tow truck company is contracted to provide patrol service Monday through Friday during morning and evening commute hours. It will provide either free on-the-spot quick-fixes or towing services to stranded motorists.

Fresno COG'S One Voice: Fresno COG's advocacy effort unites Fresno County communities and regional interests in a voluntary and collaborative effort to seek federal and state funds annually for regionally significant projects.

City of Coalinga

Fast Facts

In the late 1800's early settlements occurred in the Pleasant Valley upon the discovery of coal in Western Fresno County. Mule trains transported the coal to the transfer station to serve the Southern Pacific Railroad. Coaling Station A & B became the loading points for the railroad. "Coalinga" was derived from dropping "station" (Coaling Station A) from the name of this loading point. The later discovery of oil and gas adjacent to Coalinga soon prompted another wave of development. Oil boomers arrived, and the town grew and prospered.

Coalinga incorporated as a city in 1906. It is now a full service city with a community college (West Hills Community College), a community hospital and library, a municipal airport (5,000 foot primary runway), and two major state facilities (Pleasant Valley State Prison and Coalinga State Hospital). Coalinga is located along Interstate 5 in the Central Valley as a central point accessible to the major cities within the Golden State. Commercial and industrial opportunities abound.

City of Firebaugh

Fast Facts

Incorporated in 1914, Firebaugh has grown from a "sheep shearing station and ferry crossing," to an agriculture based city. Before the railroad, the San Joaquin River was the major thoroughfare to upstream communities. The ferry was the major crossing for prospectors heading for gold country.

Ferries were the only way to cross the river until the late 1800's when the first bridges were built. The San Joaquin River played a major role in settling of the valley and Firebaugh is one of the oldest historical towns on the Westside.

City of Kingsburg

Fast Facts

The history of Kingsburg is unique with its single ethnic origin. In the early 1870's news of good farming, warm climate and free government land prompted two Swedish natives to settle in a Central Pacific Railroad (now Union Pacific) town called "Kings River Switch". In 1874 the present townsite was drawn up and the name was changed to "Kingsbury". Two years later it became "Kingsburgh" and in 1894 took on its present spelling, "Kingsburg".

Before widespread irrigation, huge wheat farms were the source of Valley wealth and problems. Transient workers with no ties to any community spent their wages in the saloons of whatever town they found themselves. Overindulgence often resulted in gunshot-punctuated exuberance that often spilled into the streets. Kingsburg was no different. By 1886 there were four hotels and several saloons causing consternation to a growing town population. Alarmed community leaders, hoping to incorporate their city, led the fight to clean up the town. The fight was between "drys" who wanted all saloons within the city limits closed, and "wets" who wanted to maintain status quo. On May 11, 1908, "drys" won the day. Kingsburg was incorporated and all but two saloons were closed.

In 1921 ninety-four percent of the population within a three-mile radius of Kingsburg was Swedish-American, giving the community the nickname of "Little Sweden." Today Kingsburg is known as the "Swedish Village". With its Swedish architecture and village atmosphere, Swedish banners fluttering from lampposts and brightly painted Dala Horses, the Swedish heritage of the community is preserved.

City of Mendota

Fast Facts

The Southern Pacific Railroad established a storage and switching facility in 1891 at the site of present-day Mendota. However, the city was not incorporated until 1942.

The wildlife refuge to the east of town is complemented by abundant croplands in all the surrounding area. Mendota has traditionally been almost entirely dependent on agriculture for its economic well-being, and has gained recognition as the Cantaloupe Center of the World. The city's goal is to move from dependence on the seasonal crops to a more year-round operation.

Recreational opportunities are abundant, with three city parks in addition to the county and state administered parklands, and an active sports and activity program. Hunting and fishing are excellent in the area.

City of Selma

Fast Facts

Selma began with the founding of the Valley View School district in 1880. h 1890 four farmers (J.D. Whitson, E.H. Tucker, George Otis and Monroe Snyder) formed a partnership, developed a townsite and began auctioning lots. The city of Selma was incorporated just three years later. By 1910, although raisins were the major crop, Selma was know as the "Home of the Peach". h 1912, both fruits were honored in a "Peach/Raisin Festival". Selma officially adopted the name "Raisin Capital of the World" in 1963, with 90% of the nation's raisin crop being cultivated within eight miles of the city.

Selma is very proud of its downtown and industrial and commercial developments it has attracted in recent years. These include a U.S. Postal Encoding Center, a new regional movie theater, a variety of new shopping opportunities, and an auto mall. Selma residents and business owners are very proud of their community and strive to keep the small town atmosphere and quality of life they have come to love.

County of Fresno

Fast Facts

(Including all cities)

When the Central Pacific Railroad reached Fresno County in 1872 it established the little town of Fresno on the broad treeless, empty plain. Soon farms began to spring up nearby raising mostly grain, hay and livestock. In 1873 Francis T. Eisen planted numerous varieties of grapes a few miles east of the new town planning a winery. They flourished, but the summer of 1877 was extremely hot and his muscats dried on the vine. To salvage them he picked, packed and shipped them to San Francisco as raisins. They were marketed as Peruvian imports but the truth soon leaked out that they were from Fresno. The next year four San Francisco school teachers led by Miss Minne Austin, who had planted a small vineyard a few miles south of town, marketed 30 twenty pound boxes of raisins. These two marketings of Fresno raisins met with such buyer enthusiasm that soon more and more larger plantings were made until over the years Eastern Fresno County became primarily devoted to raisin growing. The annual value of this crop together with returns from other agricultural production within the county makes Fresno County the Leading Agricultural County in the nation. Unique Features:

-Number 1 agricultural county

Situated in the geographic center of the state

=Producer of largest variety of crops

-Highest number of county road miles
